

INDO-GERMAN WATER network news - AUGUST 2009

The Workshops in Bangalore and Chennai - a Great Success -

We are very glad for the information exchange between Indian and German experts in the field of water and wastewater at the workshops. Especially the discussions were a brilliant base for further project developments. Project proposals have already been submitted to the Indian and German ministries. We would like to thank our partners and participants once again.

Here you find the press report and more pictures about our workshops:
